After completing a 6-month Fullstack Web Development bootcamp, I am now part of LC Studio, a simulated work environment designed to prepare graduates for professional roles. Simultaneously, I remain active within my local church's youth initiatives, serving in a leadership role to guide and inspire younger members. These experiences have provided me with communication skills as well as what it means to be a team player. I am also actively pursuing relevant courses to further enhance my current skills and knowledge.

PARTNERSHIP PROGRAM

Our partnership initiative aims to collaborate with companies keen on hosting interns who have the potential to transition into permanent roles. These companies recognise the importance of fostering a secure environment for budding developers to flourish.

Our partnership program consists of the following key points:

- ▶ Internship model, support and outcomes
- ▶ Internship hosting requirements
- ▶ Our stipend program
- ▶ Targeted outcomes

OUR STIPEND PROGRAM

Financial support through stipends is crucial for our interns to remain in the program and meet their basic needs. Via our Yes4Youth partnership, interns receive monthly stipends. Placement partners acknowledge and support the following:

TOP UPS

Consider providing a top-up amount to interns, as the stipend may not cover all expenses. This supports their thriving in the internship.

CONTRACTURAL TRANSITIONS

Support the transition from internship to employment within timeframes required by Yes4Youth partner. This can be negotiated upfront.

DOCUMENTATION

Ensure internship/employment documents reflect key details. Provide supporting docs including contracts for sharing with Yes4Youth.
